Icebox Knitting, LLC

<http://iceboxknitting.com>

Products/Services:

We are the makers of two very distinct brands of knit headwear and accessories: Xob and Dohm.

- Xob products are made using a process called upcycling- utilizing existing items as raw material to create something new of higher quality or environmental value. The process of upcycling is good for the planet. Making Xob products requires virtually no new materials and gives new life to clothing that has outlasted its usefulness.

- Located at the foot of the Colorado Rockies lies a knitting mill frozen in time. Here for more than 20 years a small group of artisans have employed century old technology to handcraft the Dohm brand of hats and accessories. Using the finest natural fibers available, each garment is crafted by hand on antique knitting machines enhancing the character of the fabric. The upmost care and attention to detail is given to each step in the process ensuring the highest quality finished product.
