

For Mr. Randy Baerg, President of Warren & Baerg, the manufacturing industry is a family tradition.

He has been actively involved in operations of Warren & Baerg since 1978. A background in business administration and expert knowledge of the forage and fiber processing industries has enabled him to identify innovated equipment and processes for a rapidly changing Market.

Randy currently directs the activities of the engineering, manufacturing, customer service, and sales departments with a hands-on management approach. Evaluating materials and methods to improve the performance and durability of our equipment and replacement parts is a primary objective.

Exporting is a very important part of Warren & Baerg's business. By 1990 30% to 50% of Warren & Baerg sales were export out of the US.

Export of Warren & Baerg's replacement parts, equipment and systems remains an important part of the business averaging between 45% to 55% each year.
