

Evolving Export Controls, Compliance, and Enforcement
December 10, 2015
Salt Lake City, Utah

SPEAKER BIOS

JAMIE R. ADAMS
GTM Sales Solutions Consultant
Livingston International

Mr. Adams joined Livingston International's Global Trade Management Team in May of 2015. Jamie supports Livingston's global sales teams to perform import and export compliance needs and risks assessments and help develop solutions and services to meet client and regulatory requirements.

Jamie has nearly 20 years of experience as a trade compliance and/or logistics manager/director at several global organizations, including: Comtech EF Data (Tempe, Arizona), Dell (Austin, TX), Cameron (Houston, TX). Along with responsibility for day-to-day operations, Jamie also led policy and strategy for these organizations in relation to global import and export activities.

Prior to joining Livingston, Jamie was Director of Global Trade Strategy with the Eminent Group, an Oracle partner providing implementation services for Oracle Transportation Management (OTM) and Oracle Global Trade Management (GTM) solutions. In addition, while at Hewlett-Packard, Jamie was Senior Manager of Global Trade & Customs IT where he led the SAP-GTS development and client support teams. He has also been a super-user of various other global trade solutions, including Livingston's (formerly Vastera's) TradeSphere.

Jamie is a US Licensed Customs Broker since 2008 and was former Adjunct Faculty at Austin Community College where he taught international business courses. His instruction focused on US Customs Regulations and he assisted many students in preparing for and passing the US Brokerage Examination.

As a member of the International Compliance Professionals Association (ICPA), Jamie has been a regular speaker at their annual conferences and is a permanent member of the Conference Committee. He also served a term on the Board of Directors and was instrumental in forming the Houston & Austin Designated Area Trade Association (DATA) Groups.

Jamie received a BA in Art History from Arizona State University (Tempe, AZ) and an MBA in International Business from Western International University (Phoenix, AZ). He is based in Houston, Texas.

DAVID (Dave) J. GLYNN
Of Counsel
Holland & Hart LLP, Denver, Colorado

Mr. Glynn practices law in the areas of International Trade, Import/Customs Law, Export Control/Trade Sanctions, and Government Investigations. Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Mr. Glynn spent almost twenty years with IBM Corporation in various staff and management international trade positions. Mr. Glynn has represented clients in a wide range of industries, both within the U.S. and globally, in all aspects of international trade law and compliance. Mr. Glynn counsels exporters in compliance with the Export Administration Regulations, International Traffic in Arms Regulations, Office of Foreign Assets Control sanctions, Department of Energy and Nuclear Regulatory Commission export regulations. His expertise includes export classification/jurisdiction determination, licensing, reporting, compliance programs, audits, awareness education and training, voluntary disclosures and enforcement actions.

Mr. Glynn is a licensed Customs broker and assists clients with import classification, valuation, duty-preference programs and North America Free Trade Agreement qualification, compliance training, audits, prior disclosures and enforcement actions.

CRAIG C. HEALY

Assistant Director for the National Security Investigations Division

Director of the Federal Export Enforcement Coordination Center (E2C2)

U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Mr. Craig C. Healy is dual hatted as the Assistant Director for the National Security Investigations Division and as the Director of the Federal Export Enforcement Coordination Center (E2C2). Mr. Healy has served in a variety of management positions at the federal level throughout his 28 years of government service.

On November 9, 2010, as part of the President's Export Control Reform Initiative, President Obama signed Executive Order 13558 establishing a Federal Export Enforcement Coordination Center within the Department of Homeland Security. The E2C2 is managed and under the operational control of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Homeland Security Investigations (HSI).

Mr. Healy began his federal government service in the United States Marine Corps in 1983. In 1991, he joined the U.S. Customs Service, Office of Field Operations, JFK Airport, New York. In 1995, Mr. Healy was selected for a special agent position with the U.S. Customs Service. From 1995 through 2001, he was assigned to the Special Agent in Charge, Buffalo, NY office.

In 2001, Mr. Healy was transferred to U.S. Customs Service Headquarters. In 2003, Mr. Healy served with the first group of U.S. federal special agents entering Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. While in Iraq, Mr. Healy was the co-case special agent responsible for initiating the financial investigation resulting from the theft of one billion U.S. dollars/Euros from the Central Bank of Iraq. For this and other investigative efforts, Mr. Healy and his fellow HSI special agents were awarded the Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association's Distinguished Group Achievement Award.

In 2003, Mr. Healy was selected as the Assistant ICE Attaché Toronto. He was subsequently promoted to serve as the ICE Attaché Ottawa, with oversight of U.S. Mission Canada's largest investigative presence.

In 2010, Mr. Healy returned to HSI Headquarters to serve in the Office of the Director as the Homeland Security Investigations Liaison to the Deputy Director, as well as the Senior Advisor to the HSI Executive Associate Director.

BRIAN LANEY

Director, Global Logistics and Trade Compliance Cubic Corporation

Brian has over 20 years of experience in international trade compliance management covering both import and export compliance areas. He has direct experience in International Traffic in Arms Regulations compliance as applied to unmanned aerial; vehicles, radar and laser imaging systems, military communications, tactical data links and a variety of other defense technology areas and services. He also has extensive experience with the Export Administration Regulations as applied to several cutting edge technology areas as well as Nuclear Regulatory Commission and Department of Energy regulations for the export of nuclear reactors, components, materials and technology. Prior to Cubic, Brian held positions in Trade Compliance Management at Pratt & Whitney (United Technologies), Northrop Grumman and General Atomics. Brian has a Bachelor of Science in nuclear engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and a Masters in Business Administration in international business from the University of Southern California.

PATRICK MATSUMURA

Director, International Trade Compliance Hexcel Corporation

Hexcel is the largest manufacturer of carbon fiber and composites for the commercial aerospace market. Hexcel's sole source position on the Airbus A350 XWB program for carbon composites has created new international challenges. Mr. Matsumura is responsible for the export and import compliance programs for Hexcel's global operations and has been involved in the composites industry for more than 25 years.

He is a member of the Department of Commerce, Composites Technical Working Group; Professional Association of Import/Export Compliance Managers; International Compliance Professionals Association and supply chain security programs such as Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism. He regularly meets with government partners in the United States, United Kingdom, France, Spain, Belgium (Wallonia), Germany and Russia. He is a graduate of the University of Utah with a BA in Economics and an MBA.

AARON MELVILLE

Export Control Officer
South Dakota Board of Regents (SDBOR)

Aaron currently the Export Control Officer for the South Dakota Board of Regents (SDBOR) and is responsible for compliance oversight and policy development at six universities including South Dakota State University, The University of South Dakota, South Dakota School of Mines and Technology, Black Hills State University, Dakota State University, and Northern State University.

Prior to joining the SDBOR he worked in compliance roles as an Empowered Official in the aerospace and defense industry, as outside compliance counsel and litigator for small to medium sized businesses, and as an educator teaching import/export courses at Champlain College at both its Burlington, Vermont and Montreal, Canada Campuses. He is a member of the Association of University Export Control Officers and is licensed to practice law before Vermont State and Federal Courts. Previously, Aaron has presented on export control topics for the Vermont Chamber of Commerce, served on the Vermont International Trade Alliance, and as a volunteer for the Export Legal Assistance Network. Aaron is a native of Utah and holds a Bachelor's Degree in international business (2002) and a Masters Degree in Business Administration (2005) from Westminster College in Salt Lake City, Utah and a Juris Doctor (2005) from Vermont Law School.

SCOTT L. OLSEN, Esq.

Trade Compliance Manager/Counsel

Moog Inc. Aircraft Group., Moog Inc.

Moog Inc. Aircraft Group is a leading aerospace corporation producing flight control systems for commercial and military aircraft, and other electronic products for government and commercial marketplaces worldwide. Scott is responsible for Moog's Aircraft Group trade compliance worldwide. As the Moog Inc. Aircraft Group Trade Compliance Manager, he is also a member of the Moog Inc. Trade Compliance Steering Council. Mr. Olsen received his J.D. degree, cum laude, from Southwestern Law School in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Olsen also has a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree from Brigham Young University and an Associate degree in Manufacturing Engineering from Weber State University. He has over 17 years' experience working in the trade compliance field.

JILL POWLICK

Vice President of Legal Affairs

BioFire Defense, LLC

Jill Powlick is the Vice President of Legal Affairs at BioFire Defense and responsible for all legal issues with a focus on Intellectual Property, Import/Export and the Food & Drug Administration (FDA).

Since joining BioFire Defense's predecessor company (Idaho Technology) in 2005, Ms. Powlick has worked on the BioFire patent portfolio, resulting in dozens of issued patents. She also maintains licenses and enforces patent portfolios, one of which is one of the largest royalty revenue sources for its licensing partner, the University of Utah.

BioFire Defense designs, manufactures, and sells a number of biotech products that are regulated under the ITAR. Because of this, Ms. Powlick has expanded her practice to include import/export law, and she serves as Empowered Official for the company. As the Empowered Official, Ms. Powlick is a regular participant in export seminars and is particularly knowledgeable in ITAR Category XIV issues. She has recently submitted comments on proposed rules to Category XIV for Export Control Reform. Ms. Powlick has also worked to expand her knowledge of FDA law, to assist with BioFire's entrance into the diagnostics industry.

Ms. Powlick has been employed at BioFire Defense for ten years. Prior to joining BioFire Defense, Ms. Powlick worked at the law firms of Ice Miller and Barnes & Thornburg (both in Indianapolis, Indiana), where she represented a variety of clients in patent prosecution and litigation. Ms. Powlick began managing BioFire's patent portfolio in 1999 and has worked on BioFire patents continuously since that time.

Ms. Powlick began her legal career clerking for the Honorable Myra C. Selby, Indiana Supreme Court, and the Honorable S. Hugh Dillin, U.S. District Court for Southern Indiana, where she worked on litigation in a wide variety of subject areas.

JOHN P. PRIECKO

President and Managing Partner
Trade Compliance Solutions (TCS)

TCS represents a network of seasoned professionals across the country focused on outreach, education and training to better ensure compliance with the letter and spirit of US Government (USG) laws and regulations. John has a 20+ year career in trade compliance and export controls as a Vice President of Global Trade Compliance, Director of International Trade Compliance and Senior Empowered Official. He has unique in-depth practical expertise and diverse experience in the USG, industry, as a consultant and with law firms dealing with all aspects of the global integrated supply chain. John is also an accomplished author of numerous trade compliance and related articles--a well-known speaker at many conferences, seminars, workshops and other events. Among various affiliations he is a member of the International Compliance Professionals Association, Society for International Affairs, and the Virginia/Washington, DC District Export Council.

CHADD WESTHOFF

Executive Director, Software Solutions, Global Trade Management
Livingston International

Chadd Westhoff leads the delivery of Global Trade Management software solutions, helping Livingston's clients adhere to complex trade regulations, while improving international supply chain efficiencies. Chadd joined Livingston through the acquisition of the JPMorgan Chase trade compliance services business, formerly Vastera, and was appointed executive director, software solutions in April 2012. Chadd provides specific expertise in the automation of trade and their integration with enterprise software systems.

Prior to Livingston, Chadd held several senior management positions over 13 years with Vastera, in logistics and supply chain product management as well as global trade solution consulting. Chadd previously consulted with Andersen Consulting, working in technology architecture and customer relationship management practices.

Chadd holds a Masters of Business Administration from Duke University in Durham, North Carolina, and a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Colorado at Boulder.